

WILPF women say:

“Commit to universal human rights”

We strongly urge prospective
MPs to commit to...

- uphold our commitments to international United Nations treaties and conventions
- guarantee the right to free speech and peaceful protest
- work through the UN and Europe to reduce the causes of refugee flight, including conflict, persecution and climate crises
- open monitored safe routes for refugees to come to the UK, welcome them and allow them to work while waiting for their applications to be processed
- stop indefinite detention of asylum seekers and refugees

Britain should be proud, not ashamed, of our record on human rights and lead the way!

WILPF | UNITED KINGDOM
WOMEN'S INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE FOR PEACE & FREEDOM

We believe that everyone deserves to live in peace and genuine security

The current reality does not look like this.

WILPF – the Women’s International League for Peace and Freedom – set up in 1915, is the oldest international feminist peace organisation active across the world today.

Our mission is to address the root causes of violence, inequality and armed conflict through a feminist lens, in pursuit of peace and justice for everyone.

We campaign to move away from power structures that push us into militarism, conflict and war. Instead, we campaign to build a world of permanent peace focusing on freedom, justice, non-violence, security, human rights and equality for all.
